I give ALL of the glory to my Father God, the Lord Jesus Christ, and the Holy Spirit for the collection of books which He has written and for the illustrations - ALL of which would not have been possible without Him. He instructed me to put the copyright in my name and I have obeyed. God's Loving World Ministries™ is a Christian Literacy organization whose mission is to teach remedial reading, writing, math, and English to English as a Second Language Learners.

Psalm 115:1 reads

“1 Not to us, LORD, not to us
but to your name be the glory,
because of your love and faithfulness.” (NIV)

When you look up a word in a dictionary, you will find many words. You will ALSO find that even ONE word can be a member of several different Parts of Speech depending on how it is used in a sentence. As you read this book, you may find words listed as one form of speech and it also may be listed as another Part of Speech in another context.

This IS NOT an error. I could not give all of the possible definitions for every word or this book would be hundreds of pages long.

Please consult a dictionary if needed.

Articles precede or go before a Noun.

- "a" - is a word that is referred to as an Article. It is pronounced with the schwa Aa sound "uh." It is used when the noun following it begins with a Consonant.

They bought a house in May.

The noun "house" begins with the Consonant "h," so the Article that is used BEFORE it is "a" (pronounced "uh").

- “an” - is another Article. It is used when the noun begins with a Vowel.

We saw an elephant at the zoo.

The noun “elephant” begins with a vowel - Ee, so the article that is used BEFORE it is “an.”

- “the” is another Article. It has many uses in the English language and I will name only a few here.

The cat jumped into the hat.

It is pronounced "thuh," except when indicating notoriety or acclaim.

For example:

Matthew 16:16 New International Version

"¹⁶ Simon Peter answered, "You are the Messiah, the Son of the living God."" (NIV)

Then it would be pronounced "thee" to indicate the one and only Christ.

- It is used:
 - before a noun.
 - before an adjective plus a noun.
 - before the plural last name of a family or clan.

For example:

"I've known the Smiths for a long time."

- before the proper name of a well-known body of water, a ship, or a building.

For example:

“I would like to visit the Empire State Building.”

“She lives 3 hours from the Atlantic Ocean.”

“The Mississippi River is the second longest river on the continent of North America.”

“The U.S.S. Constellation is the last warship designed by the U.S. Navy that operated by sails only.”

➤ before the plural form of some numerals that represent decades - twenties, thirties, forties, fifties, sixties, seventies, eighties, nineties.

For example:

“During the forties in the U.S., rationing took place, because of the war.”

➤ before an ordinal number to indicate a particular date.

For example:

“The electric bill is due on the fifteenth day of the month.”

➤ Before titles and names to suggest notoriety or acclaim, etc.

“I received the Christ, the Son of God, as my Savior, many years ago.”

Adverbs are used to describe or clarify other Parts of Speech. They usually answer a question like: how, when, where, how often, how long, or how much?

1. Adverbs can describe or clarify Verbs

Verb

Adverb

The girl waved excitedly at her Mom.

How did the girl wave?

The answer: excitedly.

(Many adverbs used to describe verbs end in "ly," but not all.)

2. Adverbs can describe or clarify

Adjectives. Yes, adjectives are words that describe too, but an adverb can help to add clarity.

Adverb

Adjective

The employee was very polite.

How polite was the employee?

The answer: very polite.

(Many adverbs used to describe adjectives end in "ly," but not all.)

3. Adverbs CAN begin a question. These are called Interrogative Adverbs: what, when, where, why, and how.

- what - What difference does it make whether you wear green or red?
- when - When will you return from work?
- where - Where are you going?
- why - Why did you go there?
- how - How did you break your arm?

4. Adverbs can ALSO use ALL of those words WITHOUT ASKING A QUESTION. When this occurs, they are called Relative Adverbs. They can clarify and bring completion to a dependent clause, (otherwise known as a subordinate clause).

A dependent clause or subordinate clause does not make a complete sentence on its own. It is "dependent" on or requires more information to make a complete sentence.

(Note: The Cambridge and Oxford dictionaries do not show "what" as an adverb, but the Merriam Webster dictionary does.)

- what - What with the national debt the way it is, it seriously puts this country at risk.

- when - She lived at 964 Elm Street when she was a little girl.

Notice the verb "lived" is in the Past Tense, so the Relative Adverb was needed to specifically clarify WHEN the woman lived at that address.

- where - He wants to go to trade school where he can learn from Master level tradesmen.
- why - I know the reason why God hardened Pharoah's heart.

- how - I read to my son from infancy on, that is how his vocabulary grew.

5. Adverbs CAN clarify or modify a whole sentence. When they do this, they are called Sentence Adverbs - they can clarify the writer's feelings or opinions about the subject matter described in the sentence or help to correctly clarify information.

Sentence Adverbs can come at the beginning, middle, or end of a sentence.

Some words that can clarify the author's feelings and opinions about the subject matter are:

frankly, fortunately, hopefully,
thankfully, and unfortunately, etc.

- frankly - Frankly, I'm looking forward to a cool breeze so that I can complete my garden work without overheating.
- fortunately - Fortunately, God ALWAYS shows up right on time if you ask for His help!
- hopefully - Hopefully, it will soon stop snowing.
- thankfully - Thankfully, I was able to lead many people to Christ this summer.

- unfortunately - Today, the game was rained out, unfortunately.

Sentence adverbs that can help to correctly clarify information are: actually, admittedly, consequently, honestly, technically, and truthfully, etc.

- actually - Perennials, actually, are cheaper to raise over time, because although they are initially more expensive, they come back from year to year.

- admittedly - He admittedly confessed to having led a life of crime.
- consequently - 1 Timothy 2:9 says that women should dress in modest dress, consequently, no cleavage should be showing.
- honestly - Honestly, there is no other God except my Father God, the Lord Jesus Christ, and the Holy Spirit!
- technically - Technically, a peanut is a legume.

- truthfully - The Lord Jesus Christ,
truthfully is the Messiah!

We like to give everyone an opportunity to receive the Lord Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior. Let's pray!

Lord Jesus the Christ,

I've made so many mistakes I must confess.

I repent of them now and turn from them.

I no longer want that mess.

Lord Jesus, I believe you are the Son of God and believe in your resurrection.

I want to be a child of God
and receive your love and affection.

Lord Jesus the Christ be my Savior.

Come into my heart.

Cleanse me now of all unrighteousness and give me a brand-new start.

I ask for the baptism of the Holy Spirit.
and the baptism by Holy fire too.

I WANT to be changed and to do the RIGHT things

I need help from you.

Please help me to read, write, and do my math.

I want to start learning today.

I want my life to take a turn and start in a whole new way.

Thank you, Lord Jesus, for helping me to learn.

I KNOW you can help make my ability,

greater than anyone ever imagined

and bring back my self-respect and dignity.

I ask this in the name of the Lord Jesus the Christ.

I say "Amen" and make it sure.

Now I'll start learning the RIGHT way.

I KNOW Lord Jesus, YOU are the door.

AMEN!

What should you do now as a new Christian?

You should also be baptized by immersion, meaning that you're dunked totally under the water, you are dunked and brought right back up, that's the way Christ was baptized and we're supposed to follow HIS example of what to do. So, be baptized by immersion and then ask the Lord where you should be going to church. What is the church that He would like you to go to?
